Our District magazine winter 2018 edition out now

This edition features the exciting news that our brand new leisure centre – The Bridge at Broadbridge Heath near Horsham – is now open for business.

The District is also set to be a very special place throughout all of next year. For the first time it will host a unique celebration of culture and heritage, with the Horsham District Year of Culture launching in January 2019.

This edition also brings you news of an amazing wild art trail being created for Pulborough and a new medieval themed play park in Roffey, in addition to a packed calendar of local events and entertainments – most of them are completely free.

Horsham Remembers

In addition to the major cenotaphs in larger cities and towns, there are many other memorials at individual offices and public places across the UK and Horsham District.

Ahead of Remembrance Sunday, Chairman Cllr Peter Burgess, in conjunction with the Horsham Branch of the Royal British Legion, attended services of remembrance and laid wreaths of remembrance to commemorate the centenary of the end of the First World War at Horsham's rail station, police station and Royal Mail sorting office.

Treat your compost bin after Halloween

Don't miss a trick and remember to give your recycling bin a treat after Halloween.

More than 1 million pumpkins are sold in the UK for Halloween every year, and 18,000 tonnes of pumpkin goes to waste, despite the fact that most of your pumpkin can be eaten.

Hubbub have made a brilliant video to show how to use your pumpkin after Halloween.

If you're looking for more inspiration, visit Love Food Hate Waste for tasty recipes that can help you make the most of leftovers.

If you can't eat all your pumpkin then why not compost it? The West Sussex Waste Partnership offer home composters for just £15.
