New scheme stops more than 500,000 pounds being defrauded from vulnerable people in one month

News

A national scheme, adopted by Sussex Police just 18 months ago, aimed at preventing elderly and other vulnerable people falling victim to fraud across the county, has prevented £528,083 being stolen in just one month

In October 2018, there were 35 calls to the force from banks and other financial institutions under the Banking Protocol, about potential victims with an average age of 75. In each case police responded and succeeded in ensuring that the person did not hand any money over.

Since June 2017 433 such calls have been received by Sussex Police from banks and £2,478,761 has been saved from being defrauded.

In Sussex this process dovetails with the force's Operation Signature, because following a call from the bank, police attend and always take positive action in crime recording and taking further action to safeguard the victim.

Police advise:-

- Be wary of any calls, texts or emails purporting to be from the police asking for your personal or financial details, or for you to transfer money.
- If you are approached, or feel something is suspicious, hang up the phone and don't reply. Then report it to Action Fraud and your bank on their advertised number.
- Never send or give money to anyone you don't know or trust; check people are who they say they are; don't share your personal information; make decisions in your own time; and if in doubt phone a relative or a friend.

Operation Signature is the Sussex Police campaign to identify and support vulnerable victims of fraud across the county. Fraud is becoming more complex and deceptive, and much of it is targeted at vulnerable and elderly people.

For further information about Operation Signature and ways of preventing fraud, especially against elderly and other vulnerable people, see the Sussex Police website here.

Sussex Police welcomes 38 new constables

This latest intake sworn in on Wednesday (December 5) boosts the total number of new constables this year to 208, much of the recruitment made possible by this year's rise in council tax.

Another busy weekend tackling drink and drug-driving across Sussex

It's been another busy weekend for roads policing officers across Sussex targeting drink and drug-drivers in the Christmas crackdown.

Despite publicity around the launch of the campaign and the 26 arrests made over the first weekend, a further 20 drivers were arrested on Saturday and Sunday (December 8-9), bringing the total to 72 in just eight days.
