Joke Time A husband and wife who work for the circus go to an adoption agency looking to adopt a child, but the social workers there raise doubts about their suitability. So the couple produce photos of their 50-foot motor home, which is clean and well maintained and equipped with a beautiful nursery. The social workers are satisfied by this but then raise concerns about the kind of education a child would receive while in the couple's care. The husband puts their mind at ease, saying, "We've arranged for a full-time tutor who will teach the child all the usual subjects along with French, Mandarin, and computer skills." Next though, the social workers express concern about a child being raised in a circus environment. This time the wife explains, "Our nanny is a certified expert in pediatric care, welfare, and diet." The social workers are finally satisfied and ask the couple, "What age child are you hoping to adopt?" The husband says, "It doesn't really matter, as long as the kid fits in the cannon."

TRAVELLING

Thank you to Pam from Rusper for the following

I have been in many places, but I have never been to Cahoots. Apparently, you can't go alone. You have to be in Cahoots with someone.

I've also been in Cognito. I hear no one recognises you there.

I have been in Sane. They don't have an airport; you have to be driven there. I, myself, have made several trips there over the years thanks to my children, friends, family and work.

I would like to go to Conclusions, but you have to jump and I'm not as physical as I once was.

I have also been in Doubt. That's a sad place to go, and I try not to visit there too often. I've been in Flexible, but only when it's very important to stand firm. Sometimes I'm in Capable, and I appear to be going there more often, now I am getting older.

One of my favourite places to be is in Suspense! It really gets the adrenaline flowing and pumps up the old heart. At my age I need all the stimuli I can get!

I may have been in Continent, but I don't remember what country that was in. They tell me that it's very wet and damp there!
